Hi there

It has just been drawn to our attention that TV3 are screening the documentary on Child Poverty next Tuesday. Regardless of the content and quality of the production, the fact that this has become an election issue means that we could attract some flak.

Normally I would check around before starting to take action, but rather than delay giving the Minister a heads-up I decided after talking with Jane that we should register our strong disappointment with TV3 and put that in front of the Minister today. The two papers follow.

Although the arrow has already flown, don't hesitate to let me know if you think we should take, should have taken another course of action. .

Time will tell how badly we have been dropped in it. We'll keep in touch next week.

Cheers, Neil.
