

Communities Leading Change

A practical workshop about community-led development (CLD)

When:

9am-3pm, Tuesday September 24th 2013

Where:

The Whare, Victory Community Centre, 2 Totara St, Victory.

Cost:

$100 Community leaders/NGOs, $180 Local/Central Govt/Business (includes lunch)

Some scholarship places are available. Contact Kindra on 546 8381 for more information.

This one day workshop is designed to build understanding about CLD and to grow practical skills that support effective locally-led change. Come along to:

- ▶ learn about what works and why
- ▶ gain practical tools and tips you can use in your work both in and with communities
- ▶ be inspired by new ideas and results from other Kiwi communities
- ▶ get connected with others working in community-led ways in Nelson Tasman

Tips and tools :

- growing community leadership & ownership
- starting & sustaining local change
- neighbourhood-led development
- collaborative governance
- reflective practice

 Inspiring
Communities

Workshop
co-hosted by:

VICTORY
COMMUNITY HEALTH
Te Puna Hauora o Wairoa

Registrations essential - you can do this online by going to...

<http://inspiringcommunities.org.nz/events/community-led-development-training-workshops>

About Inspiring Communities

Inspiring Communities is a national organisation created to support and strengthen NZ's growing community-led development (CLD) movement. Inspiring Communities actively connects and communicates CLD stories, results and learning via bimonthly e-newsletters, its website, training and development workshops, regional networking and by creating publications and resources. In April 2013 Inspiring Communities launched their latest publication :

Learning by Doing- Community-led Change in Aotearoa, NZ.

For more see www.inspiringcommunities.org.nz

About Workshop Facilitator Megan Courtney

Most of Megan's professional life has been spent working in local government, with her former Waitakere City Council roles focusing on facilitating and brokering sector, place based and citywide partnerships to improve wellbeing outcomes for communities. She has written many resources on partnering and collaboration and has helped lead the establishment of several community-led initiatives.

Part of the Inspiring Communities team since 2009, Megan initially convened Inspiring Communities Auckland activities. With a move to Nelson in 2011, Megan's role now focuses on supporting Inspiring Communities national activities .

Community- led development is all about working together.

Inspiring Communities is all about community-led development

Copies of Inspiring Communities new handbook Learning by Doing will be available to purchase at a special workshop price of $30 per copy.

“Both progress with my own role and that of my community would not have been possible without Inspiring Communities. Their key learnings, support and guidance remain one of the most valuable resources for community-led development in New Zealand.”

Jo Brand, Matura Community Development Coordinator

