

Risk Factor

High

Medium

Low

Used to determine timetable for assessments and upgrades

Z is the seismic factor used in the building code for determining required design strength of buildings

