

What's On DECEMBER 2005

SUMMER SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

There are so many ways to enjoy Auckland's wonderful Museum this summer...

- Explore the genius of Leonardo da Vinci in the acclaimed international exhibition; Beca presents THE DA VINCI MACHINES, featuring 50 models of his famous machines. Avoid the hustle of the day and take in THE DA VINCI MACHINES over a glass of wine at a LATE NIGHT WEDNESDAY (see public programmes for selected dates)
- Visit the new permanent gallery VOLCANOES and experience a volcano erupting right outside your house!
- Bring the kids to see DELAURUS, the Museum's dryosaur
- Book the kids into the always popular HOLIDAY WORKSHOPS and activities
- Take in a LECTURE or panel discussion
- Experience warm Maori hospitality from MANAIA in a lively cultural performance

And after your visit, enjoy a picnic on the grounds of Auckland's beautiful Domain.

Beca presents
THE DA VINCI MACHINES

Auckland Museum in association with Beca is proud to present this significant international exhibition displaying 50 models of Leonardo da Vinci's famous machines, each constructed by Florentine artisans and based on Leonardo's famous codices.

The name of Leonardo da Vinci the artist has been famous for nearly 500 years; but not until recently have we known of Leonardo the scientist, who made the whole universe his field of study.

Sought after and appreciated as an artist at court, Leonardo was also interested in scientific subjects, applying his knowledge of mechanics to military and civil engineering works and dedicating himself with passion to studies such as anatomy, biology, mathematics and physics. His manuscripts testify to his finished experiments, starting from the solutions created to solve practical problems regarding time, up to the intuition of future possibilities such as flying machines and automation.

The exhibition is comprised of 50 models and is organised around four themes; mechanical, war, hydraulic and flying machines. Each model has been built according to Leonardo's drawings, notes and with materials available in 15th century Italy. The models are accompanied by a facsimile of the relevant drawing with Leonardo's notes and an explanatory text.

18 November – 5 March 2006. Special Exhibitions Gallery, Ground Floor

Exhibition Price: Adults $12, Children $6, Family (2 adults & 2 children) $27 (save $9)
Concession (senior citizens, students, members) $9 (save $3)

VOLCANOES

In association with
EQC, The Earthquake
Commission

Auckland Museum's dynamic new permanent natural history exhibition will examine the scientific and human stories of volcanoes.

The highly interactive exhibition will give visitors a walk through the deep sea black smokers and a window view of a volcano erupting in Auckland harbour. The exhibition takes you on a sensory journey that explores the geographical, social and cultural impact of volcanoes in Auckland (the only city in the world actually built on an active volcanic field), throughout New Zealand and around the world. It also tells us what we should do to increase our awareness of the risks involved.

Opens 17 December 2005

Volcanoes Gallery, Level 1

FREE with admission donation

DINOSAURS ALIVE!

Delaurus the dryosaur has settled well into the Museum since she was discovered in the Domain five months ago – however there is no denying she is a wild animal. Like a lot of wild animals, Delaurus spends most of her time sleeping and eating, so her keeper brings her out regularly to exercise her, feed her and get her used to being handled by the public. This happens four times a day during the Christmas holidays at 11.30am, 12.30pm, 2pm and 3pm daily.

Over the summer months her keepers will be asking visiting children to help them as they continue to help Delaurus adapt to her environment.

Shows every Saturday

11.30, 12.30, 2pm

(Extra show at 3pm during school holidays)

Origins Gallery, Level 1

Price: $4 per child (free for members, who still must get a ticket for the show) – accompanying adults free with admission donation.

Leonardo as a Futurist

Professor David Walker, UCOL

Tue 29 November, 7pm, APEC Room, entry via East Door

The da Vinci Machines exhibition will be open for viewing from 6pm

The genius of Leonardo is very well known as both artist and as an inquiring proto-scientific mind. He had a special ability as a designer which, from a contemporary viewpoint, appears to give him almost unnatural powers in seeing into the future. This talk focuses on his powers of prediction as revealed in some of his machines and engineering devices. We will look at small items like the flexible chain, to larger artefacts such as parachutes, helicopters and flying machines.

Renaissance

Associate Prof. Bruno Ferraro, University of Auckland

Tue 24 January, 7pm, APEC Room, entry via East Door

The da Vinci Machines exhibition will be open for viewing from 6pm

Through Leonardo's works and his interaction with political and cultural personages a number of different aspects of the Renaissance will be illustrated.

One Mind, Two Brains, No Boundaries – an anatomy of a most creative mind

Dr Cris de Groot, Unitec

Wed 15 February, 7.30pm

Special Exhibitions Gallery, Auckland Museum, entry via West Door

The da Vinci Machines open from 5.30pm

Leonardo was equally at home in the expressive arts of painting and sculpture as he was in the precise arts of engineering, anatomy and architecture. It is this perceived ability to access and exercise to the full, both sides of the brain that continually fascinates and inspires to this day. By combining insights from recent psychological, neurological and philosophical research into consciousness, we can begin to approach how Leonardo came to possess and deploy such an incredible array of creative gifts.

Invention and Tradition in Leonardo's Portraits of Women

Dr. Erin Griffey, University of Auckland

Tues 21 February, 7pm, APEC Room, entry via East Door

The da Vinci Machines exhibition will be open for viewing from 6pm

This lecture will explore the fascinating aspects of Leonardo's iconic portraits of women, the so-called Mona Lisa and the portrait of Ginevra de Benci. We will find that both invention and tradition are hallmarks of Leonardo's portraits.

Cognitive Ergonomics; 3D thinking

John Lyall, design lecturer and sculptor

Wed 1 March, 7.30pm

Special Exhibitions Gallery, Auckland Museum, entry via West Door

The da Vinci Machines exhibition will be open for viewing before the lecture from 5.30pm

The thinking of da Vinci, particularly his 3 dimensional thinking, is why his designs are both creative and innovative. Da Vinci had the ability to present 3D problems to himself in a way that allowed him to have significant success. As a thinker he has particular relevance to us today.

PANEL DISCUSSION

DID DAN BROWN KILL DA VINCI?

Thur 2 February, 7.30pm

APEC Room, entry via East Door

This is an opportunity to revisit this controversial book in the setting of our own Museum. The discussion will be convened by the Museum's Director, Dr. Rodney Wilson, with the participation of Lindsey Freer representing Catholic Church Communications, Mary Kisler from the Auckland Art Gallery and Michael Moynahan, Managing Director of Random House New Zealand.

Price:            Non Members $13
                      Museum Members $10

Numbers limited. Bookings essential. Phone 09 306 7048. Payment by credit card or cheque.

SPECIAL DISPLAY

CONCOURSE D'ELEGANCE OF DUCATI MOTORBIKES

Sat 26 November, 11am to 2pm
In front of the Museum

Ducati Owners Club will park 12 of their beautiful Italian machines in front of the Museum steps to celebrate The da Vinci Machines exhibition.

FILM SCREENING

Lectures will begin at 7.30pm and the Volcanoes Exhibition will be open from 6.00pm each evening. Entry to the Museum via the front doors.

Lecture Prices: Costs $5 per person, Museum Members $3

The series will cover the following topics:

March 2nd – Volcanology in the Solar System

March 8th – Volcanology on a world scale

March 15th – Volcanology of NZ and Auckland in particular

A NEW AUCKLAND VOLCANO – ARE WE READY?

Wednesday 22 March 7.00pm

APEC Room – Auckland Museum. The Volcanoes Exhibition will be open from 6.00pm.

Sooner or later there will be a new volcano in the Auckland Region. What is being done to make the City ready for such an eventuality? Whose job is it to be concerned and what should we do to get prepared? A symposium involving representatives from Earthquake Commission, Auckland Regional Council, Geological and Nuclear Sciences, University of Auckland, Civil Defence, Emergency Management Office for Auckland City and the Ministry of Emergency Management and Civil Defence.

TOURS OF PUKEKAWA, THE DOMAIN VOLCANO

Sundays 1, 8, 15, 22, 29 January and 5 February 2pm start in main foyer of Auckland Museum.

Pukekawa is one of the oldest of Auckland's 48 volcanic cones yet in many ways it is typical.

Tour is FREE for those who have made their entry donation to the Museum and for Museum Members. The tour is weather dependent and reasonable walking shoes are advised. Places are limited and a signup sheet will be used at the Tours Desk on the day.

FIELD TRIPS

LAVA CAVE TRIP

18 March – 11am

Lava tubes are a common feature of a number of the volcanic cones of Auckland and out on Rangitoto as well. Come and explore the extraordinary lava caves in Mt Eden.

Price: The tour is FREE but numbers will be limited. Bookings essential. Phone 09 306 7048 for details.

RANGITOTO FIELD TRIP

Thursday 20 April

A half day trip with a guided walk on Rangitoto. This is the youngest of our 48 volcanoes in the region having been formed just 600 years ago. A great opportunity to explore the volcano and see how life has developed on the cone itself. The range of plants and animals is now quite diverse and very well adapted to this unique environment.

Depending on demand we are able to offer two timeslots – 9am departure and 1pm departure.

Price: Details are to be confirmed. Approximately $20 for adults and $10 for Children and a family price of $50 [2 adults/2 children].

Bookings essential. For more details phone 09 306 7048. Places are confirmed with payment. Cheque or credit cards are accepted.
